TREPOFF REMOVED; SUFFRAGE TO ALL

Count Witte and Emperor Forced to Surrender to the Popular Clamor.

(By Associated Press.)
ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 9.—P. M.— Both Count Witte and the emperor have made another surrender. General Trepoft has been removed from the powerful position which he occupied, that of governor-general of St. Petersburg and assistant minister of the interior, and Russia's premier has agreed to immediate universal suffrage.

Count Witte has been fully aware of the intense hatred General Trepoft's retention in office was causing, but he never questioned the sincerity of the governor-general's co-operation in the introduction of the new regime.

Nevertheless he recognized the necessity of Trepoft's removal and the government himself agreed that only his retirement would appease the popular wrath.

Fear of the Emperor.

The final obstacle was the emperor, who had come to believe that Trepoft alone was able to safeguard the life of himself and family, but his majesty at last yielded on the condition that the post should become a purely nominal position, succeeding the late Lieutenant-General Hesse, where his sole duty will be to take measures to protect the life of the emperor. The position of Governor-General of St. Petersburg ends with Trepoft's retirement, but the place of commander of the imperial guard has been assumed by the Grand Duke Nicholas.

The series of consultations which Count Witte has been holding convinced him that it was useless to hold out longer if he was to continue seeking to secure the sympathy of the parties of the centre. He, therefore, practically promised an immediate extension of the suffrage to include all classes of the population. The suffrage in the cities will be direct and among the peasants it is indirect through a single set of electors.
Even upon these conditions, however, the constitutional democrats finally lost last night decided definitely not to hold office in the present ministry. They take the high position that the ministry is only temporary, lasting until the national assembly or constituency meets, and they refuse to accept office unless it is demonstrated that they have the support of a majority.

The Russ and other radical papers which have been campaigning against Trepoft, hail his removal with delight as being the first victory for the free Russian press.

Has Been Misunderstood.

General Trepoft claims to have been greatly misunderstood, and that history must eventually acquit him of being insane. He says the minister of the interior, and all the other horrors which Russia experienced during the last forty years.

"I should think it unnecessary for me to deny that the government sought to influence the elections of the people against each other," he said. "The manifesto seemed to rouse the elemental passions of the people. Different classes of the population did what they could to stiffen and suppress the differences, but in many places the authorities were compelled to withhold the shock. The accussion against the police made by enemies of the government who have demanded nothing short of miracles are largely inventions."

ported, and that others were found unsealed were made during the day. The investigation of the election promises to be the most thorough ever made in New York city.

Mayor McClellan to-day engaged counsel among the best legal talent in Paduca. He is now a candidate for president, to represent him during the presidency contest.

Hearst Begins His Fight.

Aided by an array of legal talent in which are lawyers of great prominence, not only as masters of their profession, but also as leaders in more than one movement for good government in this city, William H. Hearst has begun his fight, which he believes he won in the election, and his first step created a sensation, apparently without precedent.
Last night he obtained an order from Justice Gaylor, of the Supreme Court, directing the police to turn over all ballot boxes to the Board of Elections at once. The police obeyed the order as far as they could, but when they proceeded to the election board's office, there was no one there to take custody of the boxes, and the policemen were compelled to remain in the street for hours guarding the repositories of the people's votes. Later John K. Voorhies, president of the board, declined to accept responsibility in the matter, pending advice from the corporation counsel. Mr. Voorhies is a Democrat, and when his decision was made known, the Hearst men turned to Charles W. Page, a Republican member of the board, but he also declined to act, and then the police were left in the strange position of trying to carry out the court's orders, but unable to do so. The street in the vicinity of the election board offices presented a strange sight, as hundreds of policemen stood on guard around the patrol wagon and other vehicles in which the boxes had been conveyed from the various precinct station-houses.

Fac Similes of Ballots.

Mr. Hearst's order was obtained from Justice Gaylor, after the circulation of a story that a printing firm had been burning out large numbers of fac-similes of the official ballot, and that these were to be marked for McClellan and placed in the ballot boxes in place of Hearst ballots to be removed. The moment the rumor reached the ears of the headquarters it was decided that the "facsimiles" might not remain longer in the station-houses, and the application to Justice Gaylor was made as quickly as the papers could be drawn up.

It was reported that many of the ballot boxes in Brooklyn were not properly sealed, and that their covers were merely pasted down, making it possible for any person to open the box and see it again without detection. The new results of the boxes be closed with sealing-wax.

A representative of the Municipal Ownership League, watching the arrival of the wagon, reported to President Voorhies that two boxes protruded from the back of a wagon with their covers unsealed. He said these boxes had come from the Eighteenth Assembly District, of which Charles P. Murphy is leader.
He asked that the boxes be sealed, but Mr. Voorhies replied that he did not have the power to do this.

Among the attorneys aiding Hearst is William M. Evans, the Republican candidate for Mayor in Tuesday's election.
Mr. Evans volunteered his services to Mr. Hearst, and the offer was accepted.
Another attorney acting for Hearst is Judge John P. Dillon, who was one of the judges of the Supreme Court of Iowa.

TAKE DRASTIC ACTION.

Naval Department to Deal With Fatal Fight at Annapolis.

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, November 9.—Secretary Bonaparte has received a telegram from Rear Admiral Sands, superintendent of the Naval Academy at Annapolis, advising the Secretary of the information obtained by the preliminary investigation made concerning the death of Midshipman Branch.

There are indications that drastic action will be taken in connection with the affair at the Academy. This action will be directed rather against the system which obtains at the Academy in connection with these "affairs of honor," than against the individuals connected with the unfortunate tragedy. Colonel James R. Branch, of New York, former of Midshipman Branch, who died as the result of a fight with another cadet at the Naval Academy, accompanied by his sister, called on President Roosevelt today. The President, who has known Mr.
Branch for many years, expressed his sympathy for the unfortunate death of his son.

Mr. Branch and his sister then called on Secretary Bonaparte at the Navy Department. The Secretary expressed his great sympathy at their loss. He told visitors that he had taken the most serious view of the matter, and assured them that suitable action would be taken in the case.

Colonel Branch, who was a resident of Richmond until a few years ago, arrived here last night.

CANAL WILL BE BUILT, DECLARES MR. SHONTS

WASHINGTON, D. C., November 9.— Theodore P. Shonts, the chairman of the Isthmian Canal Commission, was the principal speaker at a joint meeting of the American Hardware Manufacturers Association and the National Hardware Association at the New Willard Hotel tonight. There was a large attendance of members of both associations, by whom Mr. Shonts was given a hearty reception as he entered the hall. Mr.
Shonts spoke as a business man to business men, and said that to make the Isthmian canal a place fit to live in and to work in, there were three fundamental tasks which had to be performed in advance of all others.

First, Through sanitation of the Isthmus.

Second, Providing suitable habitations for all classes of employees.

Third, Providing a system of food supply which would afford to all employees opportunity of obtaining wholesome food at reasonable cost.

Mr. Shonts told in detail what had been accomplished along these three lines, and what the existing conditions that exist today. His figures bearing on the equipment necessary to carry on the work were surprising. After discussing the importance of the problem of the labor to be had, Mr. Shonts said:
"The canal will be built—rest assured of that—and it will be built at Panama.
There are two phases of the problem have passed irrevocably from one field of debate. There is an industrial and voluntary man of hired Annamese moving to and fro in the land whose mission it is to deny this. The burden of their song, to the accompaniment of their lyres, is:
"The canal will never be built at Panama, and everybody connected with the enterprise, including the President, and Commissioners, and Engineers, is convinced of it. You can hear the refrain of this band chanting their song, singly and in chorus, wherever men congregate, and wherever a few reporters are gathered together. They are rehearsing for their grand burst of noise when Congress shall have assembled. When they are not rehearsing, they are putting the words of their song into loggia interviews and other written forms of newspaper publication, which they are sending forth by thousands from their bureaus of publicity in this and other cities. As one contemplates the output of this singular industry, this factory of fiction, he is moved to say of his guiding spirit, as Shakespeare says of Captain Dumain:
"He will be with such volubility, sir, that you would think truth were a fool."

Umpire's Letter.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 9, 1905.

Mr. James H. Gibbons,

Manager V. P. I.

Dear Sir—I am sorry to note that your team was accused of unfair tactics and dirty foot-ball in the V. P. I. N. C. game last night. I am very sorry to hear this.

It is very unfortunate that such reports were published, because there were no grounds for them whatever. The spirit of the game was a pure and simple of good, wholesome, vigorous rivalry. No underhand methods were resorted to, no dirty foot-ball, and no net purpose of other than to injure their opponents.

These are the tactics to be guarded against, and which bring the game into disrepute. I do not see how any fanaticism of your play could be characterized as dirty foot-ball. On the contrary, the game was marked free from unfair tactics, and if you have been censured for dirty foot-ball, it was certainly undeserved. Having umpired the game, I was in the best possible position to judge of such conduct.

You may have this letter published, if you desire.

Yours very truly,

Die. J. H. W. J. H. WHITEHURST.
